Two weeks of the season of rest and penitence have passed over us, and the gay world of Salt Lake seems to be taking advantage of the period in a way never before witnessed. But whether the time is being spent in religious meditation or in the manufacture of the summer shirt waists with which to adorn the maidens and matrons who will again be mingling amid the "pomp and vanities of the world," it is not known. The social life of the city is having an unusual rest, and no events of any prominence are planned to take place here at the present time. A few parties will be held for the younger set, the chief among them being the Red and the Blue dance, which occurs next Friday evening.

Banquet at the Alta Club.
The Alta club was the scene Tuesday evening of a most enjoyable dinner party, at which Mr. George A. Snow was the host, and a number of his friends and business associates were the guests. The table decorations were most unique, the centerpiece being in the form of a large wagon wheel with spokes of American Beauty roses, and intervening spaces filled with ferns and carnations. The outer rim was of carnations while the hub was of the deep red roses. Seven courses were served in the dinner, and an evening of speechmaking and merriment was spent. The guests were: Hester M. Wells, Mr. W. S. McCormick, Mr. Joseph Barnett, Mr. George T. Odell, Mr. James H. Clinton, Mr. D. C. Doubler, Mr. James H. Moyle, Mr. Frank B. Stephens, Mr. Benner N. Smith, Mr. J. M. Schwalb, Mr. John P. Meakin, Mr. Charles S. Burton, Mr. Clem Schramm, Mr. George M. Cannon, Mr. William H. Kline, Mr. Charles N. Street, Mr. S. V. Derrah, Mr. J. A. Reeves, Mr. James H. Peterson of Chicago, Colonel M. H. Hecht of San Francisco, Mr. Louis Hecht of Boston.

At Luncheon.
One of the most delightful affairs of the past week was the luncheon given on Wednesday by Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes. The event included twelve guests. The red dining room was used, and the table decorations were in harmony with the furnishings. In the center of the large circular table a high vase filled with red and white carnations was placed, while at either side were candelabra shaded in red. Masses of green ferns and exquisite flowerwork completed the table accessories. The place cards were in white and gold, with the words "Amelia Palace" engraved on each.

For Mrs. Boggs.
Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker entertained at a very informal card party Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Boggs of Pittsburgh. After a few minutes the evening was spent in conversation and music. The guests were: Mrs. Pegg, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Howard, Judge and Mrs. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Children's Party.
One of the prettiest of children's parties was that given yesterday afternoon by Master Paul King. About sixty children were made happy during the daylight hours of the afternoon at a ray dancing party. The large double parlors were thrown together and prepared for dancing, while in the dining room was spread a buffet table from which refreshments were served. In the hall piano was played by Mrs. W. H. Ede and Mrs. Hoffman and Mr. L. O. McBride assisted in entertaining the little people. The parlors and hall and dining room were decorated with festoons of smilax with masses of pink and white carnations. In the dining room the table was decorated in white, pink and pale greens, the latter color being seen in the shades of the cut glass candelabra. In all it was a very pleasant event.

Reception.
The Misses Aggie and Annie Campbell gave a most enjoyable reception at their new home Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Denton B. Mackintosh. The parlors were beautifully decorated for the affair, the prevailing colors being pink and white. Banks of palms were arranged for a background, and among these pink and white carnations were used most effectively. In the dining room a large centerpiece of shower bouquet and roses met a chandelier, while to the four corners were extended ropes of smilax. Those assisting in receiving were, besides the guests of honor, Miss Jane Mackintosh.

Mrs. Brixen and Miss Joan Campbell. In the dining room were Mrs. R. S. Campbell and Miss Edwards. Punch was served in the hall by Miss Annie Bowring.

At Dinner.
